Regional Voter Toolkits

Your Region. Your Voice. Your Vote.

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT TO BE INFORMED?

Voting is one of the most powerful ways Alaska Native people can shape the future of our communities. The Alaska Federation of Natives Regional Voter Toolkits are designed to help communities across Alaska access clear, culturally relevant information about voting and civic participation.

These toolkits provide practical resources to support informed voting and strengthen Native voices in regional, state, and national elections.

What's Inside the Regional Voter Toolkit?

Each toolkit includes resources to help individuals, families, and communities understand the voting process and participate confidently within their region.

Inside you'll find:

- Information about how and where to register to vote
- Important election dates and deadlines
- Guidance on voting in person, early voting, and vote-by-mail
- Nonpartisan information about why voting matters
- And much more!

Use the Regional Voter Toolkit to:

- Learn about the voting process
- Share information with family and community members
- Support voter education in your region
